

Modern education embraces both physical and mental training. The proper growth and development of the body is as essential to success as the proper growth and development of the mind.

The proper growth of the feet, especially in children, is essential to good physique. Educator Shoes permit the normal growth of the feet along the lines that nature intended.

The Right Choice for Growing Children's Feet

Educator Shoes are anatomically perfect, fitting the natural curves and arches of the feet and allowing every bone and every ligament to grow and shape itself properly. Educator Shoes insure freedom from cramped muscles, twisted bones, corns, callouses, and the score of other foot ills that result from wearing unnaturally shaped shoes.

Educator Shoes have not sacrificed style in attaining comfort. They are as fine looking shoes as any that are made, and they are far superior to most shoes in the quality of the leather of which they are made.
